

BATTLE LINES TIGHTEN ON TWO VITAL FRONTS

U.S. PLANES ARE GOOD, OWI REPORT SAYS

Office of War Information Statement Is Result of Criticism

ALL ARMY AND NAVY AIR TYPES SCANNED

Points Out, Though, That Battles Will Bring Full Appraisals

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Coupling unvarnished criticism of American fighter planes with an overall analysis of all Army and Navy air types, the Office of War Information concluded today that "on average the combat performance of United States aircraft was good" and improving.

In a 10,000-word report to the public designed to dispel the fog of confusion concerning American planes, OWI said "the truth lies between the two extremes" of adverse and favorable criticisms.

Specifically, the document said: The Curtiss P-40, Bell P-39 (Aircobra), and North American P-51 (Mustang), standard army fighters already in action, have many good points but are definitely inferior to foreign types in high-altitude combat. Improved types are in production but haven't been battle-tested yet.

2. Chief fault of our fighters is the tardy and incomplete development of the Allison liquid-cooled motor.

3. For daylight precision bombing our fighter B-24s are unsurpassed.

4. Our medium bombers, Mitchell B-26s and Martin B-26s have no competitors.

5. Latest navy fighter, dive bomber and torpedo types already in action are the best carrier planes in the world.

6. Other types—patrol, reconnaissance, cargo and transport, gliders, etc.—are "satisfactory in quality" within their own fields.

Battles Show Results

Stressing that only results in battle provide valid standards of criticism, the report suggested no full appraisal of our planes will be possible "until the war has been won."

It told how alternate superiority of the United States and Great Britain in various types gave the United Nations, as a team, a better choice of weapons than the enemy.

It declared of the future that "the United States aircraft industry and services are in an orderly ferment of developing specialized aircraft of high, and in some cases sensational, promise of battle performance."

While asserting that America had lagged in developing high-altitude fighter planes, the report found numerous favorable things to say about the same types.

"In contrast to their unsuitability for high altitude service in Britain, P-39s and P-40s," the report said, "have shown on the record that they are valuable weapons in Russia and in northern Africa." In these matters, the planes are needed primarily at relatively low altitudes to cooperate with ground forces and have frequently been the most highly vaunted of German aircraft. The P-39 was accorded an extra good mark for work in the Aleutians against the Japanese.

Senate Log-Jam

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—The administration sought to dynamite a legislative log-jam in the senate today in an effort to put three important bills—the proposal to draft 18 and 19-year-olds, the record-breaking tax bill and a $6,341,000,000 appropriations measure—on President Roosevelt's desk before the end of the week.

The appropriations bill, carrying about $5,600,000,000 for the Navy, had the right of way and leaders hoped to obtain its speedy passage to clear the tracks for consideration tomorrow of the Selective Service proposal. The house passed the latter bill by a vote of 345 to 16 on Saturday.

Emmanuel, Lutherans Tie For First Place In Loyalty Crusade

The Salem Ministerial association will meet at 4 p. m. Tuesday at the Memorial building to lay plans for the second phase of the contest. November has been designated as loyalty month and a city-wide canvass is being contemplated by the city's ministers.

The "Evening Hour" at the First Baptist church will continue next Sunday with Rev. C. F. Evans of the Christian church in charge. The sinkings brought to 494 the Associated Press tabulation of announced Allied and neutral nations merchant ship losses by submarine attack in those waters since Pearl Harbor.

Ships sunk were the British ferry steamship Caribou, two Brazilian freighters and two African-owned Panamanian and one unidentified Allied merchant vessels.

Decrease Is Shown In Benefit Claims

New claims for benefits filed by unemployed workers in the Salem area, comprising Northern Columbiana county, decreased to 15 during September, a drop of 76.9 per cent from August.

This trend was in keeping with the situation over the entire state in which new claims fell to an all-time low of 6,664, a decrease of 41 per cent from August, according to a report issued today by Arthur S. Johnston, deputy of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation here and manager of the Salem Employment Security center.

The number of weeks of unemployment for which benefits were paid in this area during September was 476, with benefits totaling $5,688.34, a decrease of 49.3 per cent from August. Benefits of $724,514.09 were paid throughout Ohio, a decrease of 27 per cent from August.

Johnston quoted Administrator Herschel C. Atkinson of the bureau as attributing the state-wide decrease in benefits to the steadily mounting demand for workers and the tightening of restrictions by the bureau in allowing benefits to any unemployed persons who fail to accept other employment.

The average weekly number of unemployed persons receiving benefits in this area during September was 131. For the state the average was 14,815 per week, a drop of 25 per cent from August.

NAZI TROOPS ILL AT EASE

Growing Unrest Reported Among Norwegian Soldiers of Occupation

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, Oct. 19.—Mutinies, desertions, suicides and general lowering of morale are on the increase among the 200,000 German troops of occupation in Norway, the Norwegian government-in-exile was informed today in fresh reports brought out of the homeland.

Two large concentration camps were reported opened for mutineers along the Finnish frontier and at least 1,400 Nazis were said to be confined in one of them.

One authoritative account said that 1,000 German soldiers stationed north of Kirkenes rebelled against an order for them to go to Russia and that one out of every ten had to be court-martialed. The order went on, because Nazi firing squads refused to shoot the men and the rebels were sent to concentration camps instead.

Accounts of Hitler's troubles within his own army were coupled with growing unrest among the conquered peoples of Europe rebelling at the Nazi campaign to recruit labor for war industries.

German and Italian troops were said to have fired on a crowd of Greek transport workers in Athens.

Evidence of increased German pressure was particularly strong in unoccupied France, where 500 Gestapo agents were said to have been assigned to rounding up workers to be sent to the reich.

The fighting French news agency said the Vichy government, unsuccessful in its efforts to recruit enough workers to satisfy German demands, had agreed to naturalize the secret police agents to facilitate their work.

This reported move coincided with an announcement by Paris radio that registration of all men between 18 and 50 for forced labor would begin today in the unoccupied zone. Women between the ages of 21 and 35 also are subject to call.

CAMDEN EVACUATION HAILED AS SUCCESS

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 19.—The mass evacuation of 3,000 civilians from this industrial center, the greatest maneuver of its kind in the nation's history, was hailed today as a "completely successful performance of a difficult job."

Mayor George E. Brunner made that appraisal of yesterday's five-hour evacuation test.

As the first "bombs" crashed at 11 a. m. Sunday morning an army of civilian defense workers and Coast Guardsmen began the pre-arranged task of evacuating "casualties" of this city of 200,000 to adjoining territories.

FRESH RED TROOPS RUSH AT INVADERS

Germans Climb Over Own Dead to Register Latest Advance

18 NAZI TANKS OUT; 14 PLANED DOWNED

Other Enemy Advances In Russian Areas Reported, Report Says

(By Associated Press)

MOSCOW, Oct. 19.—German troops, advancing over the bodies of hundreds of their dead, added a new block of Stalingrad's crumbling buildings to their holdings within the city today as the Russian defenders moved in fresh troops in a desperate effort to blunt and defeat the latest Nazi assault, now in its sixth day.

Earlier reports had placed the fiercest fighting in the besieged city in the northern factory area and it was assumed that the new German gain was registered here.

"Hundreds of enemy dead were left in the street and 18 tanks were knocked out," the mid-day communique said.

Fourteen German planes supporting the German assault were brought down by Red air force pilots and anti-aircraft fire, the communique said.

The fighting northeast of Stalingrad was only of local importance, the communique said.

Red army troops resisting the German drive toward the Grozny oil fields in the mozdok region wiped out three companies of German infantry and destroyed 11 tanks in repulsing an attack there, the communique said.

The fighting in the Caucasus, at Mozdok and Novorossiysk, was pushed into the background by the dramatic defense of Stalingrad.

Yesterday alone, said the mid-night Soviet communique, 2,500 Nazi soldiers gave up their lives for Adolf Hitler's unfulfilled dream of taking this sturdy citadel on the Volga. But the city, now in the 56th day of siege, was still in grave danger.

Once again the Germans were reverting to frontal assaults. The Russians reported they destroyed 45 German tanks in the course of bitter fighting, 17 of them in a furious battle for possession of a factory, probably the Red barbed wire gun works.

A. V. Smith, campaign chairman, announced today that the first report from the industrial section today disclosed a total of 1,451,585 pounds of steel and alloys, copper, brass and the like. He said he believed that the industrial scrap metal report was only two-thirds complete.

Service Director Frank Wilson also reported today that a light collection of scrap metal in the city Saturday had netted six tons. Back-calls have begun.

Mixed Reactions Follow Proposed Education Change

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, Oct. 19.—Ohio schoolmen concede that Robert M. Hutchins' proposal to abbreviate orthodox education because of the pending lower draft age has merit, but the suggestion evoked mixed reactions.

The University of Chicago president contends it is possible to complete general education at the age of 20 by using his "6-4-4" plan. Under this, the student spends six years in grade school, four in junior high and high schools and four in college.

Interviewed at last week's state department of education conference, Buckeye school officials expressed these views:

Kenneth C. Ray, Ohio director of education: "If the war continues for a period of years, naturally there will be efforts to get rid of non-essentials in education. Leisure courses might have to go. But any radical change in procedure should be given careful study. A student can absorb only according to his mental capacity."

H. C. Pendry, Athens city superintendent of schools: "Hutchins' proposal seems a very intelligent attempt to make the adjustments that are necessary in this emergency. And incidentally, despite statements of college administrators, I have a feeling there are a great many boys in college to escape the draft."

J. L. Blair, dean of Kent State university's college of education: "The plan has merit, both in war and peace time. The condensation, however, should not be applied almost entirely to the elementary and high schools."

W. A. Yauch, principal of Roosevelt elementary school, Euclid: "I'm all for the plan, but only if it were worked out cooperatively by elementary, high school and college men. You'll not Hutchins reserves four years for college work."

3 PERSONS HURT IN TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS

Three persons were treated for face lacerations at Salem City hospital this morning as a result of a traffic mishap on Route 62, three miles south of Canfield, at 3:15 a. m., which involved cars operated by John McGory of Youngstown and Harold Munsell of R. D. 4, Alliance.

Injured were McGory, William Reacock of Youngstown and Charles Bell of Struthers. Reacock and Bell were passengers in McGory's car. Munsell was unhurt.

Two other district traffic mishaps during the weekend resulted from tire blow-outs, according to patrol reports.

Anthony Beltempo, 44, of Leetonia, escaped uninjured when his car struck a pole on the Damascus road, two and one-half miles west of Salem, Saturday night after a tire blew out.

The other mishap occurred on the Homeworth-Alliance road, just south of Alliance, with a machine operated by Frank Geisse, 61, of R. D. 3, Alliance, crashing into a bridge. He was unhurt.

SOMEONE SAW THE LIGHT

The prediction that congress would fuddy-duddy its responsibilities until after the election for fear of political reprisals have been waylaid and disposed of without trace.

Congressmen have stared down the farm bloc's throat in the economic stabilization bill, thrust history's biggest tax bill into the taxpayers' clenched teeth and now are losing no time preparing to break the hearts of all parents of 18 and 19-year-old boys with a downward revision of draft age limits.

All this is contrary to the rules of smart politics. It represents a flight into the face of experience. It is supposed to be something a little worse than fooling with dynamite, or stepping into a bear trap. There must be some congressmen who still shudder and break out in cold sweats when they think of the risk.

But most congressmen, if they're in touch with things at home, have learned that the easiest way to play politics at a time like this is to get on with the war. That's what their constituents expect them to do. When the war's over they'll expect them to go back to their appeasing ways again, but not until then.

INCREDIBLE LACK OF FORESIGHT

Every person accustomed to the sight of the Good-year blimps hovering over Ohio's horizons must be shocked by the incredible lack of foresight in not having dozens of them on hand when the United States declared war.

They were made to order for the contingency that immediately arose—the submarine blockade on the Atlantic coast. Together with convoys, which they sided, and plane patrols, which they improved on because they moved more slowly, they have earned a major share of credit for keeping the blockaders from doing vastly more damage than they were able to do.

The navy indicates its blimp patrol now will be raised from 23 to 151, which seems to be a logical step—so logical that had it been taken before war began the German blockade of the Atlantic coast might have been a dismal failure, instead of an encouraging success—for Germany.

THE MILLS OF THE TAX MAKERS

Thrown out by the senate-house conference committee but still one of the best ideas ground out by the mills of the tax makers is the device for collecting income taxes at the source.

In the coming year more hundreds of thousands of small fry taxpayers will discover what hundreds of thousands discovered last year: They can't pay the government what they owe because they've already spent the money.

Thereupon they will be obliged to go through the bookkeeping transaction of selling War Bonds to pay their debt to the treasury that sold them the bonds, or will be forced to handle the transaction on the easy payment plan over the next 12 months.

As far as they're concerned, the sooner the legislators can figure out some way to collect income taxes at the source the simpler it's going to be for everybody concerned. But they realize that these things are subject to infinite delay. Great Britain has used the system for years and the idea has been kicked around so long that some people who never heard of it before think it's new, but for some reason or other the United States isn't ready for it yet.

SOMEBODY'S GOING TO BE WRONG

Lieut. Gen. Brehon Somervell may have been a bit hasty in writing off small manufacturers as of no account in the war effort. As army chief of supply, he may have reason to be thankful some day that the two-bit concerns kept hanging on.

For instance, in his recent brisk exchange with S. N. Murray, chairman of the senate small business committee, he deprecated English experience with small factories, which have been widely converted to war production. He thought it might be one reason why Britain needs munitions from the United States.

What Gen. Somervell ignores and what is generally ignored is the fact that the British had no time to build new factories; that they were forced to decentralize production by German bombing attacks; that, lacking the American tradition of anything being worth the cost in wartime they used what they had.

It is easily possible that small business in the United States may be forced to the wall by the advantages of centralized production. It is just as easily possible that if such a thing happens it will turn out to be one of the grave mistakes of the war. Gen. Somervell can't afford to be too sure of himself till victory is closer than it is now.

YEAR-IN-YEAR-OUT TRAINING

The army is justifiably proud of the military training program it has developed under the pressure of emergency. While the results still remain untried, the war department and, what is more important, the men who have been trained, feel that they are a little more than adequate.

Undoubtedly, the job has been made easier by the fact that most of the young men who have received military training learned the principles of teamwork and combat under a program that goes year in and year out, in war and peace—football. As Columbia Coach Lou Little explains in the current issue of Saturday Evening Post, there is every reason to believe football will prove to be a major national asset in this war, as it was in World War I. Coach Little also makes a neat case for the improvement of football as one consequence of the war, but that is beside the point.

Americans have been busily deploring their neglect of military training, and it is plain now that a great disservice was done to the members of the nation's civilian army by letting them grow up with so slight an acquaintance with arms. But part of the lack of training, perhaps a large part, was made up by the intensive training of hundreds of thousands of young men in a game that is basic warfare in miniature—hand-to-hand combat with the man who can stand up and take it longest carrying off the honors.

THE STARS SAY:

For Tuesday, October 20

THE LUNAR transits for this day hold augury of difficult and delaying conditions generally. A depressing, limiting and discouraging state of affairs may have devastating reaction on the physical health as well as mental outlook. Take a day off.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a year in which little progress or productivity may be expected. Things appear to be static or crystallized, and a sense of frustration or defeat may superinduce depression of spirits.

A child born on this day may be prone to a depressed state of mind. This attitude and physical inertia may set up a morbid or melancholy outlook if not counteracted.

We kept getting hit. Bullets and steel were flying everywhere, littering the decks. Men upon the sky control tower dropped like flies. Bodies were scattered around the deck. One of the officers went down to take some of the men from the sick bay. After a bit he came back with a bewildered look on his face. There wasn't any sick bay left.—Seaman Lynn F. Hager of the A. S. S. Astoria. Sunk off the Solomons.

We were a wealthy nation grown fat and indolent. We set out to win this war the easy way—with our money. It is not until we all begin to fear that we will lose this war that we will settle down in earnest to win it. The Yankee is always at his best when the chips are down.—Rear Adm. Clark H. Woodward, U. S. N. retired.

Aged Woman Rescued in Potomac Flood

Flood waters of the Potomac and Shenandoah Rivers marooned elderly Mrs. Kate Marks until rescue workers arrived in a rowboat. They are shown putting her ashore after she had been taken from her home. The death toll from the flood, one of the worst in the history of Washington, D. C., continues to rise as thousands flee from homes in Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia.

THEY NEED ONLY A REST CURE

Not An Operation, Declares Clendening

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D. WHEN A surgeon decides that what is wrong with most of his patients is not that they need an operation, but their nerves, that's nerves.

A few weeks ago I told of the ideas of my friend, Dr. Alvarez; that so many chronic patients did not have organic disease but had a constitutional inadequacy. Dr. Alvarez wrote me that of the many congratulatory letters he had received on the publication of his paper, only one came from a surgeon. But to make up for that here comes a surgeon. Dr. Arnold S. Jackson, of Madison, Wisconsin, with a book entitled The Answer Is Your Nerves. It is evident that what Dr. Jackson means by "Your Nerves" is much the same as what Dr. Alvarez means by constitutional inadequacy.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

Dr. Jackson, from a long experience of seeing patients daily, most of whom are convinced that they need a surgical operation to get well, has found that a very large proportion of them are sick because their nerves have gone awry, and that their nerves have jumped the track, not on account of any organic illness but because they have never learned how to live economically and sanely.

Strain of Modern Life

In our American life men keep pushing grimly on to something they do not want, and women are continually rushing in a terrific hurry to get nowhere. They pound and hammer and strain their poor old nervous reserves, cashing checks on them without ever balancing the account until one day they find the bank is empty. Their health is busted. They had an infatuation with an inevitable depression.

Dr. Jackson, whose largest experience is in the field of gynecology, has several valuable chapters on this subject with helpful remarks on how to determine whether the symptoms one has are really due to enlargement of the thyroid gland.

Blind, He Helps, Too

Several months ago, Charles A. Kime, a jig-builder at the Lockheed airplane plant at Burbank, Cal., lost his sight in an accident. That didn't stop Kime from doing his share in the war effort, however, for he is back at work in the same factory. He installs rivet nuts on the de-icing units of P-38 planes. The dog leads him to and from work.

THEY NEED ONLY A REST CURE

Not An Operation, Declares Clendening

Under the heading "Nerves in the Nursery" he remarks on the children brought up in a jazz age with the horror stories pouring in, the pressure of school lessons, piano lessons, athletic contests, dancing school, all making things as competitive as possible, and concludes: "Many of the young people of today are actually burned out by the time they finish college, and all too often this stage is reached even in high school."

A Case History

The modern woman often undertakes as strenuous a program as the modern man. Dr. Jackson has a story of a former club woman, Little Theatre, society leader, expert bridge player, speech-making woman, who came to him in middle age with a paper on which were written 20 symptoms she had, such as: Insomnia, poor appetite, indigestion, bitter taste in the mouth, rapid heart, gas on the stomach, constipation, heartburn, pains in back of neck, unbearable home life. She was much surprised when the doctor could find nothing to cut out.

The encouraging thing is that forward-looking surgeons are recognizing this situation. Time was in the early days of aseptic surgery when the surgeon would operate on anyone. Heaven only knows how many of the purely nervous patients carry surgical scars. But the surgeons are learning restraint.

Improperly Adjusted Engines Only Waste Gasoline, Garage Expert Says

Pilgrim in MANHATTAN by MARGARET BELL HOUSTON

Chloe Cameron had come to the Samuels' Bureau of Entertainment in search of work as an entertainer. Instead, she became secretary at the Bureau under a Miss Jepson. Chloe hopes that some day she would have an opportunity to substitute for some artist and sing her own cowboy and Indian songs. One Saturday afternoon, Chloe, alone in the office, is revising her rejected "songs of the Trail," when Bann Sturcis, handsome lawyer, comes in to arrange some special entertainment for a society party. When he turns down all the bureau's possibilities, she offers her own specialties without mentioning herself. He leaves, saying that what she offered wouldn't be suitable for this particular occasion but he may be able to use the "Jack Rabbit Girl" (one of her own numbers) later. It is Chloe's birthday and on the way home, she stops at a bakery for a cake. Her thoughts go back to last year's celebration in her little home town of Wahilla, Oklahoma. After her mother's death, there was no staying on in her old home. She might have married Nate Barlow, the town's banker, but Chloe was ambitious and wanted a career.

CHAPTER THREE

So the house was rented. New people, a bride and groom, had taken it. He was an oil driller in charge of a wild-cat well just outside Wahilla. They had taken it furnished except for a few things Chloe had kept for herself, some pieces of silver and linen, pieces of pottery and glass, and the banjo and copper luster bowl that had come with her mother from Tennessee.

Nate Barlow had found her tenants for her. Nate was thirty-seven, his sandy hair already a little thin in front. But he was a good-looking man, nobody could deny that. And he was solid and careful as became the president of the only bank in town.

He had found her the tenants, though he disapproved of her going. On the last night she was in Wahilla, staying with Rose Emily Robbins, her dearest friend, Nate walked with Chloe in Rose Emily's garden. It was a wonderful old garden, fragrant and shadowy, with a rose arbor and a moon in the tops of the locust trees. Nate had talked urgently.

"I've loved you a long time, Chloe. Ever since the day I got into Wahilla from Tulsa to take charge of the bank, and saw you riding to school on your pony. You were only fourteen then, and your hair was dying, and you smiled at me as you went by. I was feeling pretty low in those days, but we won't go into that."

He didn't need to. Wahilla had heard before he arrived. On the eve of his wedding the bride had tearfully run away with someone else. The blow had been too much for Nate and he had left Tulsa.

"You couldn't have loved me all of a sudden like that—feeling so low and all," said Chloe.

"Maybe not. And you were nothing but a kid. Still, it did something to me when you flashed by. Your smile was so full of what the French call camaraderie."

"I nearly ran over you," she said. That was why she had smiled at the disguised stranger changing his course so abruptly. People in Wahilla knew enough to keep out of her way when she was late for school.

"But you smiled," he answered. "And I watched you grow up. It didn't take you long. The night the College Theater gave the play you wrote—what was its name?"

"If I Were Queen," she said. Ah, what a night! But she had heard this tale before.

"You wrote it and you acted in it. You were lovely, Chloe. That was the night I knew you were grown up. You kissed me after it was over."

"Did I?" she asked. This was news.

"Well, she had kissed so many. What with the applause and the flowers and all. She had fallen in love herself that night. Not necessarily with the stage, but certainly with success, and the idea of a bigger world than Wahilla. The lyrics that she had written and sung. . . . The gay little lyrics of If I Were Queen. . . . They would make a program in themselves. . . ."

"Your mother liked me," Nate said gently, walking with her in Rose Emily's garden. "Do you love anyone else, Chloe?"

"Several," said Chloe. "All about the same."

"I guess I'm too old for you," said Nate.

"It's not that," she assured him. "I never think about anybody's age."

And they strolled on under the magnetic Oklahoma moon. Then Nate had said, "You could love someone very much, Chloe. Several, you say. You love several now. Some day you will love just one. You will love him in spite of difference in age, or of any other obstacle, if that's an obstacle. You will love him in spite of reason or common sense, or whatever else you'd rather do. And I think you'll love him always. I wish that I could be that man right now."

Chloe answered, "I wish so, too."

And she meant it.

"If I could make you sorry for me," said Nate.

She looked at him. "Pity isn't love," she said sternly.

"Well, anyhow, don't forget me. And write to me, Chloe, please. And call on me if you ever need help. Help of any kind."

She had promised, and she had kissed him, there in the moonlight.

When Chloe left Wahilla, everybody had come to the train, the grown-ups and the youngsters and the cowboys, and Chinese Gus and Rose Emily and the crowd, and fat black Odelia who had taught Chloe to cook. And old Stomachache, the Indian, leaning on his hackberry stick.

Sombody presented her with a little typewriter in the name of them all. It was Taps Kennedy from the court house. She couldn't see him, for the tears in her eyes, but she knew his voice when he began his speech—about the stories she was going to write for all the world to read, and the songs she was going to sing for people to hear, and how proud Wahilla was going to be of her—if it could be any prouder than it was already.

And husky Hunky Svendsen had brought her his buffalo robe because it was cold in New York, and somebody else had brought a pair of moose antlers for no reason at all.

Nate Barlow got on the train with her to ride as far as the tank. And when they got to the tank he kissed her again. "Remember, you're to write often, and if you need anything. . . ."

The train was moving again. He was gone. And pretty soon Wahilla was gone, too, lost in the red hills. (To be continued.)

LANDSCAPE NOW, NURSERYMEN SAY

Evergreens Will Have Opportunity To Make Root Growth

Many have been waiting for the right time to make their new lawns and to landscape.

Now is the best time of the year to transplant evergreens because they will have time to make new root growth and become settled in their new locations before freezing weather.

It is also the best time to make a new lawn. Grass will make growth enough so that the roots will make a quick start next spring and growth will discourage weeds which have to start from spring sprouted seeds.

Grass, as well as evergreens, like cool weather and there are six and perhaps more weeks of growing weather for these while the shade trees and most shrubs will do better after the transplanting is done after the leaves begin to fall.

Although Cope Brothers and Fults, Inc., nurserymen on Depot rd., are as busy as beavers right now making new lawns and transplanting many evergreens, they welcome inquiries for any nursery work and they suggest plans be made early in order that they will not have to disappoint anyone.

Paris Dry Cleaners Are Fur Experts, Too

Expensive furs demand close attention so that they may be preserved. Furs well cared for will last indefinitely and while first cost of the garment may seem high, added wearing quality will more than offset this.

The best and most practical way of caring for furs is to turn the job over to the Paris Cleaners. The Paris plant, with a trained staff of workmen, and, equally important, the proper equipment, is well qualified to handle the job.

Among equipment installations at the Paris plant is the drum-master fur-cleaning machine, the first of its type to be installed in any Ohio plant.

This machine is entirely automatic in operation. There is no chance that it will drum any particular fur longer than necessary. A time clock that controls the operation is always on the job and stops the drum at exactly the right time.

Ventilation is controlled according to the humidity and is also automatic, resulting in perfectly cleaned furs, regardless of the kind, and they will be absolutely free from cleaning fluid odor.

The vibravator is used in the finishing after furs are cleaned, where the glaze of the fur is restored to its natural beauty by combing, beating, blowing and fluffing.

It is the latest method, and this equipment is now used by the larger and more up-to-date furriers.

Today's Pattern

Post-War Project Planning Is Urged

(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, Oct. 19.—Municipalities should start now to plan public works projects for the post-war period.

These projects will help take up the slack in employment expected at the war's end, says Frederick T. Paul, president of the American Public Works association which opens its 48th annual conference here today.

Most cities have had to postpone major improvement projects due to scarcity of materials and labor, and provisions must be made for large public works programs which will aid economic recovery, observed Paul, who is city engineer for Minneapolis.

The armed forces and industries have taken numerous engineers and maintenance and operating men from municipal employment, placing heavier responsibilities on those remaining in public service. Municipal "housekeeping" and public works services are even more important in wartime than in peace, he asserted, stressing the need for keeping in good condition all structures and equipment requiring critical materials.

CATHOLICS' PLEDGES RISE, REPORT SHOWS

CLEVELAND, Oct. 19.—The Catholic Charities Corp. of the Cleveland diocese has received $248,426 in pledges from 168,635 members this year—an increase of $25,000 over 1941 pledges.

This was disclosed yesterday at the corporation's 23rd annual meeting, held at Parnassus. Catholic Boys' home in the report of Edward T. Butler, Jr., of Cleveland, who was re-elected president.

Butler said indebtedness on Parnassus now is $245,000 after retirement of $160,000 in the past 15 months. The corporation has made grants to Catholic social agencies in Akron, Barberton, Canton, Lorain, Massillon, Warren, Wooster and Youngstown in the past year.

The Admiral Changes Flagship

While escorting a large convoy to Russia, the British cruiser Seylla became a haven for survivors from vessels sunk by Nazi planes and subs. Rear Admiral R. L. Burnett, in command of the warship protecting the convoy, decided to change his flag to a destroyer and is pictured in a slung chair as he transferred to his new flagship in ocean waters. The Seylla left the slow convoy and rushed survivors to port. This photo is taken from a newsreel.

In New Guinea, where Australian land forces of the MacArthur command are engaged in driving the Japanese back across the Owen Stanley mountains, the foe had been forced to the north of Templeton crossing, just north of the main mountain pass.

"In sharp combat during the day (Sunday) enemy casualties were relatively heavy," said the communiqué. "The enemy launched several local counter-attacks in the evening which were repulsed with heavy losses."

That the American-held airfield on Guadalcanal was still intact and operative despite Japanese air and naval bombardment was indicated in a navy communiqué Sunday which said that Army flying fortresses and Navy and Marine Corps planes had repeatedly attacked Japanese troops gathered in force on the northwestern end of Guadalcanal.

Moreover, U. S. fighters together with anti-aircraft gunners completely wiped out a flight of 14 Japanese bombers which raided the field on Saturday morning.

In the Aegean corner of the Pacific war, the Navy reported, Army bombers scored five hits on one Japanese destroyer northwest of Kiska and four on a second.

"Heavy explosions and fires resulted and when last seen both ships were stopped and burning and the crews were abandoning ship," the communiqué said, reporting that this success cost only one plane.

KADENS CAPTURED TODAY IN CHICAGO

"Three-State Crime Wave" Subdued by Police In Holdup Attempt

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—Irwin Kadens, 32, termed a "three-state crime wave" by J. Edgar Hoover, was captured today, police reported, when he attempted to hold up a currency exchange at 4806 Madison st., on the West side.

The operator of the exchange called police, who arrived in time to beat Kadens into unconsciousness.

Police of the nation were warned by Detroit authorities on Sept. 30 that Kadens was "one of the most desperate criminals at large today." They advised participants in the manhunt.

"Kadens will stand for no questioning by police officers. He has been answering the first question with gunfire."

Hoover said charges against Kadens included engaging in a gun battle with a deputy sheriff at Bucyrus, O.

Lieut. Joseph Fallon of Fillmore st. police said Kadens was beaten on the head into unconsciousness by Patrolman Richard Nelson when Nelson found Kadens menacing employees of the exchange with a pistol.

According to Hoover, Kadens, a law abiding husband and father of two small daughters, deserted the army at Camp Grant, Ill., on July 14 and on Aug. 16 burglarized the home of a Detroit policeman, taking a pistol, uniform badge and handcuffs.

Thereupon, Hoover related, Kadens embarked on a reign of terror that included one kidnapping, five rapes, 17 robberies and 16 automobile thefts, many from taxicab drivers. His crime career covered seven weeks. He had no previous criminal record, Hoover said.

Invents Tinless Can

A boyhood resolve to find a means of strengthening paper has resulted in the discovery of a plastic-coated, 3-ply paper to take the place of tin cans. Chemist Albert A. Robbins, of the Macmillan Research and Development Laboratories, Los Angeles, almost lost his life at 9 when he made a paper glider and jumped from a two-story window. After much research, he developed the new container which is durable, leak-proof, and impervious to oil.

CHINESE PEASANTS DIE OF STARVATION

CHUNGKING, Oct. 19.—Stricken by one of the worst famines of modern times, Chinese are dying by thousands in the battlefield province of Honan where 6,000,000 persons are reported officially to be on the verge of starvation.

Reports brought to Chungking by officials of the government and relief workers said that 18,000,000 have become famine refugees and that the clogged roads from Honan into Shensi and Hupeh provinces are strewn with the dead and dying.

The famine was attributed in part to two years of drought conditions, crop-killing spring frosts and locust and rabbit plagues, but this was coupled with the Japanese invasion of some districts last October.

OSU-Michigan Contest May Decide Big Ten Champion

BUCKS SAIL ALONG AT UNBEATEN CLIP WITH 26-0 VICTORY

Wisconsin, Illini Remain Unbeaten; Michigan Team On Move

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—Midwest football fans—those hardy souls toughened by the shock of upsets and purported to have a lot of gridiron grey matter—went into a speculative huddle today.

They predicted the game between Michigan and Ohio State at Columbus Nov. 21, may decide the Western conference title as well as the mythical national championship.

The midwest is used to having a national champion around, for Minnesota has taken that honor the last two years. Ohio State was the No. 1 team in the land last week in the Associated Press ranking poll, and this week remains with Illinois and Wisconsin as the only unbeaten outfits in the Big Ten.

Defeated only by the Iowa Seahawks, Michigan is rapidly gaining support. It is viewed freely as the best Wolverine pack in a decade, and that takes in Coach Fritz Crisler's Tom Harmonized eleven of 1939 and 1940. This season they talk long and loud about Linemen Julius Franks, Al Wistert and Merv Pregulman and Backs Tom Kuzma and Captain George Cethlain. Michigan tripped Northwestern 34 to 16 Saturday.

Buckeye boosters are quick to say there are few, if any, flaws in Paul Brown's Ohio State machine which is steamed up by a sensational sophomore, Gene Fekete. The team's record speaks plainly enough—ramps over Fort Knox, Indiana, Southern California and Purdue, an offense showing of 145 points and a defense that has throttled the opposition with 33.

But there are plenty of barriers to jump before that potential Nov. 21 showdown.

Michigan goes to Minnesota Saturday seeking its first win over the twice beaten Gophers in 10 years. Illinois, Harvard and Notre Dame, which leaped back into the limelight by blasting the Seahawks 28 to 0 last week, follow.

Ohio State has no easy touch Saturday at Northwestern, a team which cuffed the Bucks 14 to 7 last year and which has such a passer as Otto Graham who completed 29 of 56 passes for 295 yards against Michigan.

Coach Brown then sends his club against Wisconsin, Pitt and Illinois. Other games Saturday send Wisconsin to Purdue and Iowa to Indiana for conference engagements, and Notre Dame to Illinois for a choice intersectional contest.

Wisconsin maintained its unbeaten pace by knocking off the Great Lakes Bluejackets 13 to 7 on a 61-yard run by sophomore Elmer Hirsch and a 101-yard sprint by sophomore Jack Wink.

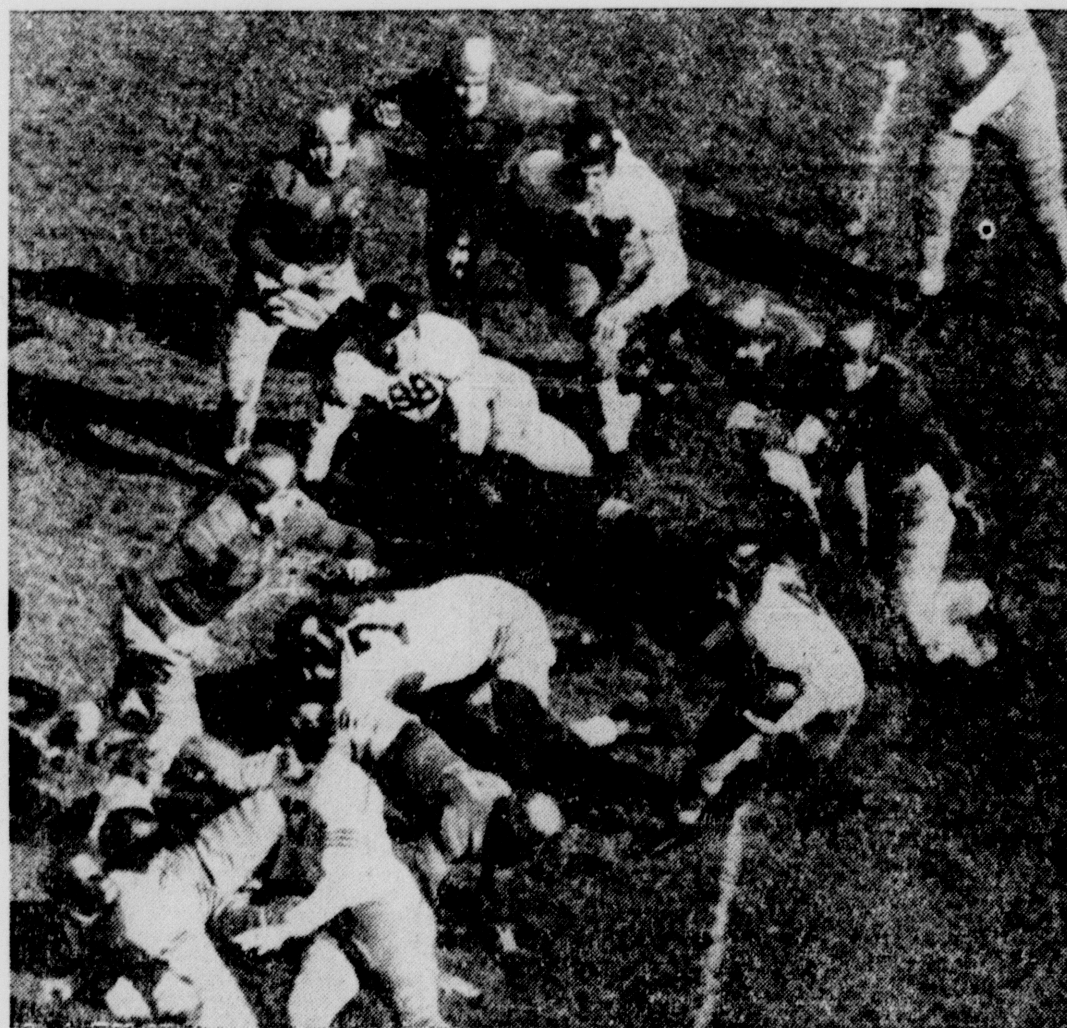

Ray Eliot's Illini rapped Iowa 12 to 7 for their fourth triumph of the season and their second conference victory.

BOARDMAN WALLOPS LOUISVILLE, 58-0
Boardman High's gridiron juggernaut, showing speed and drive all the way, shattered Louisville High's 15-game winning streak Saturday by routing the visitors 58-0, before a big crowd at Boardman field.

The triumph, with the biggest score of the season, was the fifth straight for the Spartans and put them in undisputed possession of the Tri-County league lead. It also marked the initial time in six years that Coach Lowell (Rib) Allen's eleven has scored a victory over Louisville.

Led by Ray Rich who scored four touchdowns, Boardman dominated the play throughout. The locals compiled 29 first downs to one for Louisville and although Allen used almost the entire squad, the attack never ceased.

Swisha Gains Four As Irish Rout Seahawks

Swisha (40) of Iowa Pre-Flight Naval School gains four yards against Notre Dame in the first quarter of the game at South Bend, Ind. The Irish upset the four-game winning streak of the Seahawks by a score of 28 to 0. About 30,000 spectators witnessed the grid upset. This is a phonephoto.

19 WEEKEND GAMES SCHEDULED IN OHIO

Geneva, Youngstown Lift Lid On Grid Battles Thursday Night

COLUMBUS, Oct. 19.—Ohio State's battling Bucks, co-leaders of the western conference, hit the highways Saturday for the first time this season, but plenty of football is on tap for the stay-at-homes as Buckeye squads present a 19-game three-day program.

Two of the state's quintet of unbeaten teams—Oberlin and Wilberforce—will be idle, but all the other hot-shots are up against tough opponents.

Ohio State meets Northwestern in a Big Ten tilt at Evanston, and the Ohioans are favored to win their fifth of the season and their third straight in the conference. Cincinnati, unbeaten in four starts, appears due for a drop as the Bearcats tangle with Georgia U. on the Queen City gridiron. Case, victor in three straight, meets once-beaten John Carroll in a Friday night tilt at Cleveland.

Oberlin's open date assures the Westerville club of first place in the Ohio conference for another week. The boys from "Dry Town" have won all three league starts. Case being the only unbeaten and untied team in the circuit. The Scientists have a single loop conquest.

Here's the week's schedule:
Thursday night: Geneva at Youngstown.
Friday night: Case at John Carroll (Ohio conference), and Ohio Northern at Bluffton.

SPORT CHATTER

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—One of the big questions to be settled at the A. A. U. meeting this winter will be how to create more track and field competition, which has been fading out in athletic club circles ever since the last war. . . . Closing of armories hereabouts was a serious blow to indoor track, but A. A. U. officials hope to borrow the colleges' outdoor board tracks to run a few informal meets.

Today's Guest Star
Flem R. Hall, Fort Worth (Tex.) Star-Telegram: "The story behind the decline of football at the University of Kansas appears to trace back to the president of the school. It seems he is a Harvard man who wants to make Kansas the Harvard of the middle west. As far as football is concerned, he has succeeded."

Service Department
Frank Shaughnessy, the International league president, has two sons in the Canadian army, one in the United States navy, two doing war work and three more who expect to enter the services soon. "Shag," a former Canadian army major who has been turned down on both sides of the border because of his age, says "I'm a better man than any kid of 21 and they'll recognize it sooner or later."

Warning Note
Sports writers and typographers who have been troubled this year trying to spell the name of Johnny Strzykowski, Marquette's star sophomore back, can get ready for some real meaning next year. Johnny's former high school running mate, Ray (Billy) Polczyk, is a standout in the Marquette freshman backfield.

Monday Matinee
Tip from the midwest is that Bob Cowan, Indiana sophomore back, may grab the headlines from Billy Hillenbrand. Bob weighs 185, is a deft-handed passer and a track man. . . . The Eastern Amateur Hockey league will buy the equipment for the Curtis Bay coast guard team and pay all operating expenses. . . . Hiram college (which doesn't hire 'em) is taking no chances on a player shortage this season. The school provided a full football uniform for its water boy—just in case.

RALLY GIVES EAST PALESTINE VICTORY

BROOKFIELD, Oct. 19.—Trailing 6-0 midway in the third period, East Palestine registered twice to beat Brookfield, 12-6, on a muddy gridiron here Saturday.

Lester Ledbetter, Brookfield's sensational ball carrier, raced 45 yards for the first touchdown and then failed to convert the extra point on a placement.

Bob Fullerton brought the fans to their feet when he ran the ensuing kickoff 56 yards to Brookfield 32 to set the stage for Palestine's score. Gerby went across from the one after the visitors advanced on running plays. Fullerton failed to make the extra point on an end sweep.

East Palestine came back in the fourth period to sew up the game, Lindsay going over for the winning touchdown after a series of line plays had carried the ball to within a few yards of the goal line.

The evident passage of the 18-19 draft bill will cut deeply into the grid reservoirs of the country's high schools next season. A great number of boys who are juniors this season are already 18 and can be deferred only until next July as the bill now stands. Thus they are eligible for army service although they have not yet finished their high school educations.

Plenty of Good Fishing Weather Yet

There is still plenty of time before the first snow flies to get in a lot of good fishing. Fall fishing, in some respects is just as enjoyable as Spring fishing and the Ohio Division of Conservation and Natural Resources office is receiving reports of some nice catches of bluegills and black bass being made in many localities throughout the state. The Division advises that this year it will be a patriotic duty for Ohio hunters and fishermen to "make every trip count" by combining hunting and fishing trips this fall, and by taking a carload of hunters to your hunting territory.

Comment On Sports Of The Day

With but four games left on the grid slate, the Salem High Quakers will attempt to notch their third win of the year when they entertain the Big Red of Struthers High Friday.

It was against this same eleven last season that Coach Ray Overturn's style of play showed all of its advantages.

It is hoped that the locals can repeat their victory of last season when they oppose the Down River crew here. Struthers dropped an 18-0 verdict to Youngstown Rayen Saturday.

Coach Carl Schroeder and his two Salem representatives on the Wittenberg eleven, Bob Ruffing and Everett "Bud" Dean, combined to turn in a last-minute win over Mount Union in the Purple Raiders' homecoming Saturday. It was Ruffing's interception of a Mount pass in the waning minutes of the fray which turned defeat into victory for the Lutherans. Dean played his usual fine game at blocking back and carried a Raider punt back 53 yards for one of the game's big thrills.

The 29 first downs chalked up by Coach Lowell "Rib" Allen's Boardman eleven in its 58-0 conquest of Louisville Saturday must constitute a record of some sort. Allen's charges, right down to the lowest substitute, combined to give their mentor his first win over Louisville in his six years' reign there.

East Liverpool's Potters remain as one of the district's few unbeaten and untied squads following their 19-0 triumph over Canton Tinkin in the Pottery city Friday. Coach Gerald Capezutti has a really fine club which can take advantage of any break offered it, as Salem players and fans can attest.

Massillon's football mentor must be quite a half-time speaker. The Ohio schoolboy champs really turned on the heat after trailing the Steubenville eleven by 7-6 at the end of the first half of their game in Tigertown last Friday. Their second half rally was terrific.

Salem's junior varsity squad will play its first home game tonight after school, meeting the Leetonia J-V eleven. The game will be the second of the season for the locals who lost a 7-0 decision to Boardman two weeks ago.

Two gridgers whose feats will bear plenty of weight when football experts begin selecting their all-American teams are Alex Agaso, stellar guard of Illinois, and Gene Fekete, Ohio State's blitzkrieger fullback.

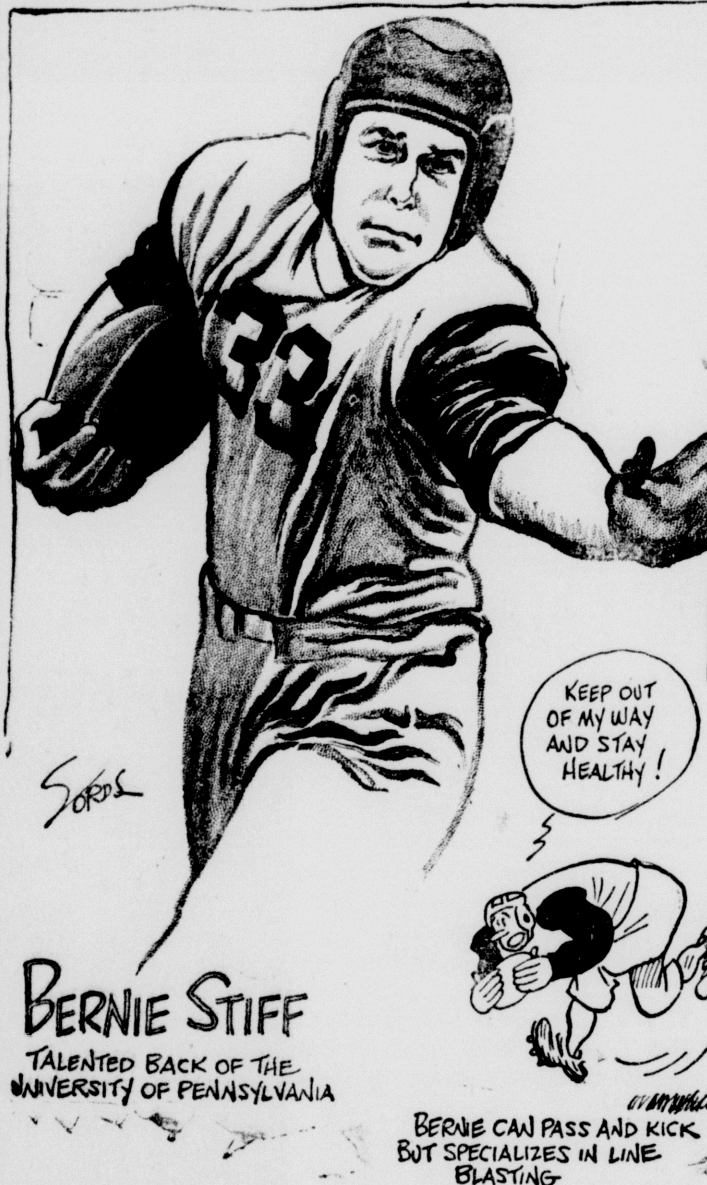

Another county boy who is carrying a name for himself in the grid world is East Palestine's Bill Scally. The ex-Bulldog star is playing fullback for the Baldwin-Wallace Yellow Jackets.

Columbiana's Clippers are next in line to get a shot at the undefeated and untied Boardman eleven. They'll clash Saturday.

Other county action will see Girard at East Liverpool Friday night, Wellsville at Pollansbee, W. Va., Saturday, and Lisbon at Louisville Saturday. Minerva and East Palestine clash Friday night on the Bulldogs' turf.

LEETONIA DEFEATS COLUMBIANA, 14-0

COLUMBIANA, Oct. 19.—Leetonia High school's grid outfit, featuring the line-smashing of Jim Murphy and the speed of elusive Ed Duco, handed Columbiana a 14-0 reverse on the latter's slippery gridiron here Saturday.

Both collaborated on Leetonia's first touchdown in the second frame. Duco broke through a gap in the Columbiana line and raced 60 yards, only to be brought down from behind by Columbiana's fullback, Bill Newell, on the two. Murphy plunged over from there and added the extra point on another line smash.

In the fourth frame Leetonia marched from midfield for its other score. Duco, tallying from the three-yard marker, and Murphy again adding the extra point on a plunge.

Columbiana was unable to produce a sustained attack at any time and made only one first down to 11 for the visitors. Leetonia, however, fumbled five times, offering the losers several golden opportunities, but they couldn't cash in on them.

Minerva Triumphs, 19-0
CARROLLTON, Oct. 19.—Carrollton High's gridgers, as yet to score a triumph this season, bowed to Minerva, 19-0, here Saturday as the visitors scored in the first period and marked up two more tallies in the final stanza.

RECORDS OF SANTA CLARA, SYRACUSE, ALABAMA ON BLOCK

Fighting Illini Battle Irish; Georgia Tech Contests Navy

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR (By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Now the nation's collegiate football teams have discovered that even the navy pre-flight squads aren't beyond defeat, they can return to the business of bumping off their own unbeaten clubs and settling conference disputes.

The unbeaten ranks were thinned last week when such teams as Tennessee, Vanderbilt, Colgate and Duquesne bit the dust, but there are several left which have nothing to worry about—until the coming weekend when the records of undefeated powers like Ohio State, Illinois, Alabama and Santa Clara will be put on the line against stern opposition.

Illinois, which clipped Iowa, 12-7 Saturday for victory number four, is due for its stiffest test yet when it collides with Notre Dame, the team that grounded Bernie Bierman's Iowa pre-flight Seahawks, 28-0.

Bucks Face Wildcats
Ohio State, conqueror of Purdue by 26-0 in a Big Ten game, will tangle with Northwestern, 34-16, will try Minnesota, a 15-2 winner over Nebraska. Other Big Nine struggles will pit Wisconsin against Purdue and Indiana against Iowa. Wisconsin tripped Great Lakes Naval, 13-7, and Indiana turned back Pitt, 19-7, Saturday.

Army, unbeaten after squeaking Columbia, 34-6, takes on Harvard in one of the eastern headline tilts. Dartmouth, 14-2 winner over Harvard, catches Yale, which lost to Navy, 13-6, and Navy entertains unbeaten Georgia Tech.

Syracuse, which kept its record clean with 19-0 win over Holy Cross meets Cornell and Brown, still undefeated after a 7-0 brush with Lafayette, faces Princeton which led Pennsylvania, 6-6.

Boston College, another unbeaten giant killer which tripped North Carolina Pre-flight, 7-6, stakes its record against Wake Forest. In other eastern topnotchers, Holy Cross will take on North Carolina State, Penn will entertain Columbia, Penn State will tangle with Colgate and Pitt will face Duke.

Georgia At CinCY
Georgia, after a 40-0 trouncing of Tulane, will meet Cincinnati with its clean slate in little danger, but Alabama, the club that dashed Tennessee's hopes, 8-0, must battle Kentucky.

Unbeaten Texas Christian, 7-2 winner over Texas A. and M., steps out of the southwest conference for a tilt with Pensacola air base, but league affairs will send Rice against Texas and Baylor against Texas A. and M.

The Big Six will have a full slate, featuring Nebraska-Oklahoma, Missouri-Iowa State and Kansas-Kansas State.

In the far west, Santa Clara's unbeaten Broncos meet strong U. C. L. A. Oregon State ties into Washington State, Washington meets California and Stanford faces Southern Cal.

Air View of Battered Cologne

An R.A.F. reconnaissance plane took this view of Cologne, Germany, months after the 1,000 plane attack on it. Barges can be seen tied up to a gutted dockyard where they are being loaded with tons of debris. Now the Nazis have more rubble to clear away, for the R.A.F. blasted the big industrial city again with a strong force of bombers estimated at about 400 planes.

Columbiana Asks Renewal of Levy

The office building of S. S. Weaver, justice of the peace, one of the landmarks of S. Main st., is being razed. Weaver has occupied the place for 37 years and conducted a feed store there for a number of years. Older residents point back 50 years when members of an active bicycle club occupied the second floor and a confectionery store was on the first floor. The building is about 50 years old. Weaver has moved his office to the Home Savings and Loan tenant building at the rear of the city market.

The house-to-house canvass made by the school, under the direction of Supt. C. B. Riggle, netted a total of 19 tons of scrap. Although the quota was 13 tons, officials point out this was a good showing inasmuch as a previous drive had been made by the American Legion in August.

HE'S A BOMBARDIER. He's the business man of this B-17E bomber crew. His office is the "greenhouse" of transparent plastic in the nose of the ship. And he works there on split-second time. But when those busy "office hours" are over—well, just look below and watch him enjoying a Camel—the favorite cigarette on land, on sea, and in the air.

A PACK OF CAMELS
IS STANDARD
EQUIPMENT
WITH ME. THEY SUIT ME TO A 'T'

THE "T-ZONE"
where cigarettes
are judged

The "T-ZONE"—Taste and Throat—is the proving ground for cigarettes. Only your taste and throat can decide which cigarette tastes best to you...and how it affects your throat. For your taste and throat are absolutely individual to you.

Based on the experience of millions of smokers, we believe Camels will suit your "T-ZONE" to a "T." Prove it for yourself!

FIRST
SERVICE

The favorite cigarette with men in the Army, Navy, Marines, and Coast Guard is Camel. (Based on actual sales records in Post Exchanges, Sales Commissaries, Ship's Service Stores, Ship's Stores, and Canteens.)

YOU'RE GEARED TO
Split-Second Time

WHEN YOU'RE TRAINING TO WIN YOUR WINGS
AS A BOMBARDIER

ALL America's living at split-second time today... from the bombardier at his bombsight to the men who make the bombs like Jerry Lorigan below. You...and you...and everybody!

So it's only natural that most everybody's smoking more these days. Only natural, too, that taste and throat—the "T-Zone"—are more important than ever to cigarette smokers now.

But...take no one's word for it when it comes to your own smoking. Make the "T-Zone" test described at the left, below. And let your taste and your throat decide for themselves.

R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, Winston-Salem, North Carolina

FOR TASTE,
FOR MY THROAT,
CAMELS
ARE T O P S

JERRY LORIGAN, who forges bombs on a split-second schedule, is just as partial to Camels as the man who lays those bombs on the target. "I've smoked Camels for years," says Jerry. "They don't get my throat, and they don't tire my taste. They're tops!"
